MARKET OVERVIEW

Located only 15 minutes from Chattanooga, Tennessee, and about 90 minutes north of Atlanta, Georgia, Fort Oglethorpe is a fascinating city with a history rich in local and national color.

Fort Oglethorpe has a unique and curious history. From its Cherokee Indian past to the War Between the States, from days as a U.S. Army Cavalry Post to the past half-century as a thriving city, many diverse epochs and events have contributed to the Fort Oglethorpe of today.

Fort Oglethorpe also serves as the entrance to the Chickamauga National Military Park, the oldest and largest of America's Civil War Parks.

Fort Oglethorpe has it all for the history buff, the family vacationer, or week-end getaway.

MANUFACTURING & DISTRIBUTION BASE

The Chattanooga metro is home to large manufacturing and distribution companies including Volkswagen and Amazon.

AFFORDABLE COST OF LIVING

A relatively affordable cost of living draws many residents, maintaining a homeownership rate of 67 percent, with increasing household formation.

CENTRAL LOCATION

The metro is a transit hub, served by rail and interstate systems. It has quick access to Atlanta, Knoxville, Nashville, Huntsville and Birmingham.

TOURIST ATTRACTIONS

Chattanooga is home to a host of natural, scenic attractions from nearby Lookout Mountain, GA to the Ocoee River that allows rafting, camping, and hiking.

Ringgold, Georgia is a small town with a population of 4,378 that has the benefits of being near of a big city with Chattanooga, TN less than 18 miles away. Steeped in tradition and scenic beauty, the Chattanooga metropolitan area has a lot to offer. The market consists of six counties in Tennessee and Georgia: Hamilton, Marion, Sequatchie, Catoosa, Dade, and Walker. The region's growing economy is helping to draw new residents. Roughly 553,000 people reside in the metro, including nearly 185,000 in Chattanooga, the most populous city. Over the next five years, an additional 24,000 citizens will call the metro home.

The local economy is heavily based in manufacturing and service industries, with multiple headquarters such as McKee Foods Corp., the maker of the Little Debbie brand of snack cakes, and Volkswagen's North American manufacturing headquarters. Service-based industries such as banking and finance have gained significance in the metro, with various mergers and acquisitions of local institutions. Today, larger banks include First Citizens Bank and the independent First Volunteer Bank, which is locally based. The city is also quickly becoming a destination for tech companies and entrepreneurs.

In the late 20th and early 21st centuries, substantial private and governmental resources were invested in transforming the city's image. Chattanooga has garnered numerous accolades for this transformation. The city has won three national awards for outstanding "livability", and nine Gunther Blue Ribbon Awards for excellence in housing and consolidated planning. In December 2019, Chattanooga made Livability's Top 100 Best Places to Live. The city ranks high in infrastructure and housing, thanks in part to its easy access to other cities and affordability.
